Normally Installed with InterChat Cracked Version3, KEYMACRO is a program that allows you to enter macros easily, without a mouse, and without being skilled in the art of typing from memory. With this program you can setup your commands. You will find the commands section easy to use and lots of fun to use! However it is not that hard to use at all, it will not confuse you. You can use it as if you were using a java client. With the toolbar buttons you can search for a button, group of buttons, or when you click the window itself, the whole window will be selected. Then you have the scrollbar, which you can zoom into and out of to see the button you need. Selecting the button will allow you to move the command from one location to another. The toolbar button will be highlighted in the default colour, you can change the default colour to any colour you wish using the options in the options menu. At the end of the toolbar you will find a menu, just like any other toolbar. This menu allows you to add and remove buttons. The buttons are added in the order that you create them in the options menu. Let's say you have two buttons, you can drag and drop them into the desired location in the order that you want them to appear. With the button you can click or double click to either remove or add the button to the toolbar. You can also add a menu button, if you do, this will have the look of a menu item, not a button, it will be easy to use as a menu. If you add a menu item, it will always appear on the end of the toolbar, it will be highlighted, so you can scroll the window to the left to see it. The menu button can also be used to add buttons, or remove them from the toolbar. The two buttons in the left column are explained in more detail below. Comments To search for a single button: Right click on the button, then select the button. You will then see a menu, scroll down to the first button, drag it to a new location, then left click on the new location. You will then see the new button. To add a button from the right hand column, 2edc1e01e8
